2003 Season Review

(by Barry Smith) National League

Back-to-back champions was the target of Miramar Rangers in 2003, and the defending National League title-holders ultimately realized their ambitions by winning both the premiership phase of the competition and the grand final, the latter dramatically with Rupert Ryan completing his hat-trick with a last-grasp winner as the Wellington club saw off league newcomers East Auckland 3-2 in the showpiece fixture.

It wasn't all easy for Kenny Cresswell's charges throughout the campaign, as early season inconsistency was followed by a mid-season three-match losing streak, including a rare home defeat, inflicted by Napier City Rovers. This was followed by a four-match winning streak, but it wasn't until the penultimate round of the competition that Rangers finally hit top spot, and there they stayed. The goals of Ryan and golden boot winner Graham Little were central to their continuing dominance of club soccer's premier competition.

Tim Butterfield and Simon George again ran the midfield with Geoff Brown and newcomer Bryan Little (brother of Graham) doing their bit on the flanks although Brown lost his place to Tariq Imam at the business end of the season.

Defensively Miramar struggled with Andy Hedge the only recognized defender after Nick Longley pulled out to pressure of work. However Darren Cheriton and Matthew West did well in strange roles and with Adam Birch so consistent throughout the whole season, few teams capitalized on the inexperience of the back line. Miramar was helped here with the return of James Bannatyne midway through the season after a spell with the Kingz.

The fourth play-off contender was anybody's guess, such was the inconsistency of the form of so many teams. In the end, Napier City Rovers came through courtesy of the points gifted to them when North Shore breached a player eligibility rule. But it was a hard slog for the East Coasters who sorely missed 2002 import, golden boot Shane Smeltz. Jonathon Taylor and Chris McIvor were other absentees but fortunately both returned home to revive Napier's fortunes. The new recruits – Nick Foley from Australia, Paul Barrow and Tony Lyons from England – did not make the hoped-for impact although Lyons was a consistent performer in defence throughout the season. Veteran Perry Cotton made his 250th appearance for the club in the final premiership encounter.

Nigh on unbeatable at home, Manawatu gathered just five points when travelling, eventually missing the play-offs by two points. How different the outcome might have been had Hawaiian midfielder Raji Ananada remained for the entire season. While his departure, at the halfway point, was offset by the return of Ian Sandbrooke from Central Districts cricket, the two together would have formed a very impressive midfield. Positives from the season were the emergence of Dalin Wilson, Steven Old, Peter Halstead and Jason Hayne as first team regulars. Stalwarts Hayden Engelfield, Mark Tesar, Matt Ayloff, Ian Robinson and Sanjay Singh contributed in the expected fashion and would have been disappointed to let a play-off spot slip away.

Capital Premier

Lower Hutt City were simply sublime in the Capital Premier League, winning all but one game and scoring an average of over four goals per game. And for the first time in history the club reached the semi finals of the Chatham Cup, losing only by a golden goal to eventual winner University-Mt Wellington. Success was long overdue. The last trophy of major consequence was won back in 1960, before amalgamation, when Railways won the Wellington championship on goal average. But there was no need for arithmetic in 2003 as the champions had a sixpoint margin over the second best team. Pedro Garcias, with 23 goals, became the Federation Golden Boot for the second year in a row, enjoying great support from Dion Bartosh (13 goals). Great help came from a midfield containing Stuart Lochhead from the English Rymans League, Mark Foster and tireless captain Phil Patterson. Lower Hutt also had the best defensive record, conceding just 14 goals.

Unfortunately, the canning of the National League promotion-relegation series robbed the green and golds of the opportunity to prove they were ready to step up to the next level. No entrepreneur saw fit to promote a match with Northern champions Glenfield Rovers – that would have been worth seeing.

A team winning 13 consecutive matches in an 18-game campaign might expect to finish top, but not in 2003, as defending champions Western Suburbs discovered. Two home losses (to Olympic and Lower Hutt) over Easter weekend eventually proving to be decisive in the season's outcome. However, there was satisfaction in accounting for national champions Miramar Rangers in the Chatham Cup though this was tempered by a subsequent loss to Island Bay at the last sixteen stage. Wests had a proven goal scorer in Peter Satos, and with Adam Church coming of age and the experienced Tony Meinen chipping in with vital and often winning strikes, the team had ample firepower. In goal, Phil Imray played every minute of the season and with Alex Wilson and Nick Haigh as a defensive pairing in front of him, less than a goal a game was conceded. Led well by Dominic Rogerson, and with nothing less than valiant defenders of their championship crown.

The inability to finish off tams from the lower echelons frustrated any chance Wellington United had of challenging the top two teams but there was satisfaction from achieving third place and in eliminating defending champions Napier City Rovers from the Chatham Cup.

Dominic Rowe is a striker with pace and shooting ability but overall the team failed to take scoring chances. Cook Islands international Tony Jamieson was again extremely consistent and at times brilliant in goal. David Boyack made great strides at fullback and experienced campaigners Gary Minshull, Blair Marfell and Craig Candy were at the heart of much that was good about the team.

After a disastrous 2002 season, when relegation was avoided only through the withdrawal of a higher placed team, Olympic began 2003 with modest aims which were largely achieved. New coaches Garry Nelson and Glen Black assembled a predominantly young team that remained unbeaten over the first seven matches. But inexperience and an inability to capitalise on their brand of football saw them drop to an eventual fourth place finish. Stand out performers were Barry Lewis in the centre of defence, hard-working midfielder Karl Whalen and schoolboy international Wayner Rooker. Russell Kamo was a constant threat on attack although goals dried up in the second half of the season. Jared Curtis brought up this century of first team

Island Bay United made history by reaching the Chatham Cup quarter final. In the league they were always entertaining, scoring and conceding goals with the same regularity. This made for some incredible form reversals as evidenced by score lines of 7-0, 0-7 and 7-1 in successive weeks.

Veteran skipper Salvi Vinaccia was as consistent as ever in midfield, new signing Mike Terry from Marist added goalscoring punch and Carl Ede was a constant threat down the right flank.

At no time was Petone able to string two wins together. The loss of striker Dion Bartosh was telling although Paul Whitmarsh finished the season same number of goals as the Lower Hutt striker. Jason Schrijvers ran hard in midfield and Gordon-Jon Thompson and Ben London also contributed well. But player of the year went to David Lane with Brendon May regarded as best and fairest.

Miramar Rangers struggles to field a competitive Federation team during the duration of the National League. They lost six games in a row but when the team began to settle, and more players became available they gradually climbed to the relative safety of seventh position, exactly where they finished the previous year. Goalkeeper Dylan Hall and defender David Capstick were stand-out players with Kevin Thompson typically consistent. Bryan Little and Geoff Brown added impetus on attack late season when achieving a result became all important.

It is hard to pinpoint what went wrong at Waterside Karori. For a side with tradition and a reputation for not lying down, they achieved very poorly. Remarkably their highlight came after seven straight losses when they became the only team to defeat Lower Hutt, winning 3-2 away. As the season continued and the possibility of relegation grew, the club turned to former coach Terry Oughton for inspiration. Veterans Craig Riddle and Tony Buick-Constable were brought in, Brooklyn Northern were defeated and the club's future in Premier League was assured. But, where to now, is still an issue for the club, especially at it is no longer fielding a team in Napier's prestigious Under 19 youth champions. Michael Greene, Sam Buckle and Darren Johnson were consistently the pick of the bunch for Waterside in 2003.

In their first foray at the top level in 24 years, Brooklyn Northern United managed to hold on for another year. Despite winning only two games, they took points off every team bar Lower Hutt and Wests and never lost more than twice in a row. However, they still finished ninth which meant a promotion-relegation playoff with Naenae, the second placed Division One team which Brooklyn won 2-1. Apart from this victory, Brooklyn's best performance was a 1-0 away win over Olympic in mid-July. Throughout the season Jeff Graham's heroics in goal were vital and he received a team award as most consistent player. Craig Burns was player of the year and Nick Thompson most improved.

Upper Hutt City gained last minute promotion to the Premier League after Marist withdrew. This left little or no time to sign new players. The solitary win for the year was gained at the expense of Brooklyn Northern after eight consecutive losses and there was barely improvement after that with only four draws in the rest of the season. However, the atmosphere during and after games at Harcourt Park was always positive and Upper Hutt does have some promising young players, particularly livewire Peter Ung. Ex-Lower Hutt player Kevin Stone was always a solid performer while the National League experience of Ryan Sandford and Tristan McCormick was a boost in games towards season's end.

Capital Premier Reserves

Lower Hutt City at last fulfilled the promise of previous seasons, winning the reserve league by a margin of 12 points. Scott Easthope, Gregg Watson, Chris Gunn and Andrew Patterson defended admirably, in front of keeper Nigel Robson, helping Hutt a new League record for fewest goals conceded. Glenn Preston and Scott McLeod (player of the year) dominated in midfield and in doing so provided the opportunity for Besim Balicevac to display his talents as a creator and maker of goals. Balicevac, the players choice for player of the year netted 12 goals with Michael Madden, a national Under-17 trialist, and Team Lomax, a constant worry for markers with his blistering pace, adding nine and seven respectively.

While Wellington United dropped too many points in drawn matches to be there at the death, their championship challenge was a serious effort that may have brought reward had some of the first team bench warmers been available more often. Michael Campbell and Mark Wala provided experience alongside the youth of Tahl Theodorou, Sam Exeter, Jamie Etridge and Matt de Jardin with Sam Heather showing competency in goal.

Western Suburbs possessed the young talent to be a top team but paid the penalty for defensive frailty in the first half of the season. The inclusion of 2001 Under-17 international Dane Rayner along with Rueben Bason and Andrew Smith brought a marked improvement in results – Wests losing one game (to Lower Hutt) in the second half of the season. Mark Bartlett and Craig Henderson, members of the 2003 NZ Under-17 Junior World Cup team, were two of West's stars along with Ben Feld and player of the year Daniel Keat.

The Wellington College-based Miramar Rangers team enjoyed a best-ever season of Reserve League football. There seemed to be better balance than in other years with more emphasis on teamwork and less reliance on individual brilliance. Paradoxically results were better in the first half of the season when only one game was lost whereas the second nine games produced just seven points. Sweeper Chris Chang was player of the year. Fellow defender Liam Dunbar was another stand out while Rodney Brown (a younger brother of national league player Geoff Brown) showed the sort of talent which propel him very rapidly into the international arena.

Although capable of putting out a young, quick and skillful side, backed up by the experience of Basil Mitrakis (player of the year) and Nigel Ingham, Olympic were very inconsistent reflecting an inability to correct mistakes and to make effective use of individual talents. This was, in many ways, a reflection of the many team changes, too numerous for a decent outcome. However, an improvement in strike rate boosted standing from eighth in 2002 to fifth in 2003.

Considering that they conceded 16 goals in their first two outings, Upper Hutt City did well to come sixth with 22 points for the season. San Ung was a consistent contributor along with Mark Bloomfield and Jason Gray while Simon Steinhof showed promise. But the real turn around came late in the season when players who had suffered long term injuries became available. This provided reserve team depth that had been lacking earlier in the season.

Waterside Karori had another trying season with little to show by way of results or player development. Given the resources of the club, something must be amiss when the reserve side is so consistently out of the running for the championship. The team was well led by the experienced Merrick Keenan. Rhys Cole can be commended for his efforts with Andrew Singleton and Tony Hutchins also contributing well. The player of the year was Simon Pauliet who was rewarded mid-season by joining the first team ranks.

Petone, the 2002 champions, and unbeaten after four games, slumped to all time low of eighth. Goal scoring was a major problem with Adam Price's presence being sorely missed. Steve Elgar (player of the year) and Chris Sambrooke (most improved) picked up the club awards.

With a goal for and against record of 37-39 Island Bay United should never have finished as low as ninth. On paper the team was quite well balanced but only rarely was this reflected in results. Scott New, Lee Westlake, Jodie Ure, Stuart Hiddleston and Jamie Milne were prominent throughout the campaign.

Brooklyn Northern United competed well but with few players of real quality their struggles were always uphill. However, they retain their place in the league and can only benefit from the 2003 experience. Club awards went to goalkeeper Dave Herman (player of the year), Domaine Connery (most consistent) and Cam Mitchell (most improved).

Capital One

With Wairarapa United dropping out of the Federation League football, Division One was contested by only nine teams.

Tawa, coached by Phil Crawshaw in his third season with the club, overcame a slow early-season start to become league champions, finishing the season with a run of six wins and a draw as they ended their two-year spell in the Capital One League following relegation from the Capital Premier League in 2001. Crawshaw believes the basis for the club's on-field success were sound administration, a committed all-round club effort in making substantial improvements to the clubrooms and the youth identification policy through the club's various age-group teams and the relationship with the local Tawa College.

Additionally, Tawa had full use of home ground Redwood Park following work done by the Wellington City Council to eliminate the halfway 'hump' that had developed over recent years. A new playing system, introduced by Crawshaw after the first half of the season, was successfully adopted with Captain Hayden Musgrove leading the team from central midfield. Striker Dan Wood, a major contributor with 10 goals, was Tawa's player of the year while young defensive midfielder Sean Hennessy impressed sufficiently to be named most improved player. Goalkeeper Dale Warburton who started in every game produced some quality performances and will be one to watch for in the 2004 Premier League campaign. While the younger players grabbed the end of season honours, the experience of Paul Bleyenga, Graeme Monk and Richard Martin was a major factor in Tawa's return to the big time.

In their second season following promotion, Naenae produced the most dramatic turnaround in fortunes from the 2002 season and finished second with a strong late-season burst that saw them win six of their final seven games. A well-organised defensive unit saw them concede the fewest league goals of any team in the league with centre back Craig Young and player of the year goalkeeper Kane Boyle especially prominent. In midfield, English import Kristian Whitehead's attacking drive proved to be a great motivation for teammates. Coach Mike Holmewood concludes his two-year coaching spell with the club and will coach Stop Out next season with Joe Carlin taking over the Naenae duties.

Seatoun, with Wayne Nichols at the helm for his third consecutive year, put in a typically solid performance. There were glimpses of skillful attacking football with the MacDonald brothers, Neil and Andrew, leading the way but defensive frailties and overall inconsistency cost the team any chance of championship honours. Highlights were two 3-3 results with eventual champions Tawa and a win and a draw with runner-up Naenae. New striker Chris Limmer terrorized most defences with his pace and determination; his 14 goals giving him a share of the honour of being the top goal scorer in the Division.

With a decimated playing strength and no coach in sight, Marist made an eleventh-hour decision to withdraw from Premier League and play at Capital One level in 2003. John Crookes, with previous coaching experience at Tawa, then took on the coaching role. Despite the unsettled early season, Marist reached the semi final of the Palmerston North pre-season tournament, offering hope for a good run in the league. But the season proper began poorly with only two points from the opening four games. However, there was a marked turn around with the signing of German law student centre-back Marco Bennek, and ex-National player central midfielder Jon Harahap. Another key acquisition was Duncan Edwards, who returned from Greensboro College in the USA, to partner ex-Tawa player Greg Parish in the striker role. This combination, rated by coach Crookes as "one of the best in the Capital leagues", helped Marist win eight of their last 10 games, with only a 2-0 loss to Naenae in the final match denying them the opportunity to gain the second-place play-off position. Other players of note for the club included Miles Murphy, young goalkeeper Jonathan Crook and ex-Tawa midfielder Jason Musgrove.

When vying for first place, Kapiti Coast United lost points for fielding an unregistered player in a 1-0 win over eventually league champions Tawa. From that point the team dropped off the pace to finish in mid table – a disappointing outcome for the club and for coach Gary Jenkins, an All White back in 1979 and more recently coach of the successful Lynn-Avon United women's team. Nevertheless, there is hope for the future now that the amalgamation of Raumati Hearts and Paraparaumu United, done at senior level in 2002, has carried through to junior level.

Wainuiomata, table-toppers in mid season, went into reverse, losing seven games in a row in the second round. Coach Willie Ward was left to ponder the numerous one-goal losses and what might have been without injuries to key players. Centre-back Neil Barclay was player of the year, Michael Barnes, a defensive utility, showed promise and Mark Manzone, despite being hampered with injury, managing a haul of 14 goals for the second year in a row.

The departure overseas of last season's top goal scorer Mark Ewing proved a blow for Victoria University, whose goal tally was the lowest in the Division. However coach Eddie Taylor felt he had achieved one goal, to tighten the defence – not an easy task given the perennial holiday and examination problems that make team selection a nigthmare for a coach of a student-based team. In this respect goal keeper Daniel Pringle was a stand-out performer. Guy Williams, a recruit from the club's reserve team showed promise in midfield but overall there was an absence of application and one wonders whether there is a future for the club above the social football level.

Creditable pre-season form at the Hilton-Petone tournament, with wins over Capital Premier teams Island Bay and Upper Hutt, hinted at a promising season for Johnsonville-based North Wellington. However a combination of injuries and player unavailability disrupted the efforts of player/coach Shayne Heathcote, exposing a lack of playing depth. Midfielder Darren Lee ended as the team's leading scorer and was named player of the year. Young striker Liam Kerrisk again showed his goal-scoring worth in the limited appearances he made while Dean Polyanszky moved into third on the club's all-time list having made 187 league appearances. Heathcote resigned at season end after two seasons in charge and will be replaced by club legend Brian Bullen who had spent the past two years in England. Bullen holds the club's all-time league appearance record of 262 appearances.

Stop Out finished last for the third consecutive season. However, the club can look ahead with hope now that renovations to home ground Hutt Park are in full swing under the auspices of the Hutt City Council. With the removal of the trotting track and the exterior of the ground, updated training facilities and changing rooms should be in place for the start of the 2005 season. The club employed joint-coaches Regan Young and Adrian Clark in place of Trevor Wattam but there was no magical change in fortune. Until July they had the services of attacking midfielder player Martin Packer from Thackley AFC, a Bradford club in the Northern Counties East League, with Packer also providing assistance to the junior club in the role of youth coordinator. On Packer's departure, Simon George from National League champions Miramar Rangers came into the side. St Pats College striker Andy Le Prou showed potential and the club will be keen to retain him.

2003 MATCH REPORT - GRAND FINAL

Defending Southern Trust National League champions Miramar Rangers made it back-to-back triumphs at North Harbour Stadium on June 15, striker Rupert Ryan scoring a hat-trick to secure a last-gasp 3-2 victory over East Auckland.

A gripping encounter between the top two finishers in the premiership campaign concluded in a manner befitting the entire league season, with a closely-fought affair ultimately decided by the winning goal being scored with just thirty seconds left on the clock.

Miramar enjoyed the better of the early exchanges, but the first chance fell East Auckland's way in the seventh minute. Heath McCormack's pursuit of Matt West was rewarded by the central defender's blunder, the striker pouncing on the loose ball to stab a shot beyond James Bannatyne but off the outside of the post.

Rangers' goalkeeper was fortunate to escape censure in the fourteenth minute, his momentum having taken him outside the penalty area as he slid to smother an East Auckland raid on a pitch which, aside from the inclement, rain-slicked conditions, was picture perfect for a footballing spectacle of this standing.

While a booking for this offence would have been decidedly harsh in the circumstances, a case for the first sighting of referee lan Walker's yellow card could have been made for Bannatyne's response to the incident, throwing the ball away being a bookable offence. But the official opted on the side of leniency, and Miramar comfortably dealt with the resulting free-kick.

Another free-kick six minutes later had the travelling Rangers' army of support in raptures. Adam Birch played the ball down the line to Simon George, whose slick one-two with Tariq Imam engineered space for a cross to the near post.

There lurked the unmarked Ryan, who swooped to head home via the post and past the despairing dive of Easts' goalkeeper, Tamati Williams, who justified the faith of coach Chris Millicich in selecting him with a fine performance between the sticks.

The goal was just the catalyst Miramar needed to raise their attacking intensity, and a fine piece of refereeing by Walker four minutes later - he applied the advantage well after a sturdy challenge by Paul Stephens on Tim Butterfield had seen the ball spill to Ryan - resulted in a teasing cross to the far post for the lively Graham Little. But Williams pawed the ball off the striker's head to safety.

On the half hour, McCormack was released by Paul Bunbury on the left flank, and the striker's pass found Kasper Burholt surging forward. As the Dane let fly from twenty yards out, he lost his footing in the slippery conditions, and the shot failed to trouble Bannatyne.

Seconds later, McCormack went for goal himself, only to find Andy Hedge blocking his shot to safety. But no sooner had the ball been cleared then McCormack was raiding once more, slipping Nik Viljoen into the penalty area. Bannatyne blocked well with his legs, but the ball spilled out to Burholt, only for West to thwart him with a timely challenge.

Defences dominated the first half, which was no bad thing, as there were some most impressive performances by those charged with this art. Kara Waetford, Sean Douglas and Hedge were the pick of the rearguard contingents of both sides, but the East Auckland men were kept honest by the Brothers Little - the thoughtful on-and-off-the-ball movement by Graham and Brian in this match would have caused problems aplenty for any side, never mind the team boasting the league's most miserly defence going into this encounter.

It was an off-the-ball challenge by Bannatyne, however, which was the talking point in the 42nd minute. Racing out of his area in an effort to clear the danger as Viljoen and West raced after a lofted ball forward, the goalkeeper missed the ball, but didn't miss the former All Whites striker, who hit the ground hard.

It was the last sighting of Viljoen in the match, as the collision prompted his premature departure from the fray, to be replaced by Tetsamuru Kimura from the start of the second half. Bannatyne didn't follow the injured player down the tunnel, however, referee Walker opting to profer a yellow card to the lanky custodian.

While Easts felt decidedly hard done by in the justice stakes on this occasion, they didn't have long to wait to extract revenge in the best possible manner. The free-kick resulting from the challenge was cleared to Stephens, who clipped the ball over the advancing line of defenders.

Nathan Strom turned to pursue it inside the area, but was felled by the similarly turning West. Referee Walker didn't hesitate in signalling a penalty, which Waetford rammed home from the spot to bring about the half-time 1-1 scoreline.

Which could have read 2-1 to Miramar, George driving a fine cross-field ball from Hedge into the sidenetting in stoppage time at the end of the first half. Rangers' momentum continued into the second spell, with Imam's off-the-ball running a new source of danger to Easts, who initially failed to respond to the threat this posed.

The midfielder's first involvement saw him arriving on the far post to meet a deep cross from Graham Little, who had teamed up with brother Brian on the left. The unmarked Imam's drive brought a spritely save from Williams, whose next involvement, sixty seconds later, owed more to good fortune than anything else, as Brian Little's shot, following a delicious curling cross from Butterfield, ricocheted off the goalkeeper's heel and spun inches past the post.

Rangers restored their advantage on the hour mark, with the familial combination doing the damage once more. Graham's pass to the overlapping Brian - a well-timed run - resulted in a low cross for the untracked Imam, whose effort cannoned off the legs of Williams. But Ryan was following up, and stabbed home his and Miramar's second goal of the game.

After Waetford and Williams had combined to thwart Graham Little, Easts went to the bench for a second time, throwing Joey Waugh into the fray at the expense of Burholt in the 67th minute.

It was an inspired change, for within sixty seconds, the substitute had levelled the scores with his first contribution. Stephens fed Waugh the ball, and a slick one-two with McCormack took the newcomer clear of the Rangers rearguard, Waugh luring Bannatyne out of goal before deftly slotting home Easts' second equaliser of the day - 2-2.

After Waugh had gone close five minutes later, further inspired off-the-ball movement by the Little brothers prised open East Auckland's left flank. The cross from the Adidas Golden Boot winner was of the teasing variety, but that mattered not to Ryan - what did was Williams' fine save from the hat-trick hunter's shot.

Back came Easts, who, having downed Miramar in the play-off between the pair in Wellington two weeks ago, were technically the home team in this encounter. A low cross from Kimura was steered narrowly past his own post by Hedge twelve minutes from time, while Waugh went for glory from distance four minutes later, much to the despair of McCormack, who was unmarked and far better placed inside his fellow front-runner.

The resulting clearance from Bannatyne saw play swing downfield, Ryan flicking the ball on for Brian Little, who deftly tried to take the ball round williams. But the former New Zealand Under-20 goalkeeper showed sharp reflexes to foil this threat.

As the clock wound down, thoughts turned to "Golden Goal" extra-time, but while there was still time to play in stoppage time, the defending champions went for the jugular. Waetford and Douglas appeared to be thinking of extra-time when a hopeful ball forward from substitute Geoff Brown arced over them in the third minute of stoppage time. That ball had a target, however, in the form of the elusive Brian Little, who galloped goalwards, only for Williams to get enough of a touch on the ball to turn it past the post.

Referee Walker looked at his watch once more, and in came the subsequent corner. Up rose Ryan, his salmon-like leap culminating in an emphatic header which bulleted in by the post, Graham Pearce's despairing attempts to head the ball off the line only directing it into the roof of the net.

It was a sight which sent the players, coaching staff and supporters of Miramar Rangers into seventh heaven - 3-2, with time all but up. Sure enough, just seconds after the resumption, referee Walker blew the final whistle, and East Auckland's despair at being so near, yet so far, was a stark contrast to the unrestrained delight of the travelling army, as they rejoiced in the crowning of Miramar as New Zealand's foremost Southern Trust National League football club - again.

2003 MATCH REPORT - FINAL

Melville United's Bluebird Chatham Cup dream ended in disappointment at North Harbour Stadium on August 17, as competition giants University-Mt. Wellington rewrote the history books by coming from behind to win 3-1, and, in doing so, become the first team to win the cup for a seventh time.

But they were made to work hard for their place in Chatham Cup history by the plucky Hamilton-based combination, who came north with an army of support which were a credit to themselves and the players and officials they were backing to the hilt.

Melville's masses made the match as a spectacle, and their noise levels would have been heard back in Hamilton in the fourth minute of the final, as United secured a dream start.

Stu Watene had already tested the gloves of Tamati Williams inside 63 seconds, but this time round, a raking clearance allowed him to take on the experienced Sean Douglas in a straight sprint for the ball. The Uni-Mount man won the race, but quickly lost his balance, gifting possession to the man whose goal fired Melville to the final.

Watene was like a fox in a hen-house, and Uni-Mount were ripe for the plucking. As cool as you like, the dreadlocked destroyer drilled the ball home via the inside of the near post to set the game alight in fine fashion.

End-to-end action ensued for the next three minutes, as Uni-Mount first sought a quick riposte - Melville scrambled clear before Heath McCormack could capitalise on Joe Waugh's left-wing raid.

The Auckland side were quickly on the back foot, however, as Jeremy Field ignored Steven Holloway's clever off-the-ball run, and rewarded an even better one by the overlapping Grant Cooper with a pass to his feet. The fullback let fly, only for Williams to smother the effort, and launch another Uni-Mount raid.

This time, Andrew Griffiths was given licence to raid down the right, and duly whipped in a cross which McCormack only just failed to make contact with, United goalkeeper Eddie Trubshoe prevailing at his near post.

On the quarter-hour in one of the livelier starts to a Bluebird Chatham Cup Final in recent memory, Uni-Mount had a great chance to equalise, but somehow contrived to make a pig's ear of a wonderful opening. Douglas' ball forward found McCormack raiding through the inside-left channel, and after taking the ball on, the striker laid it back perfectly for an incoming team-mate.

There were two, Tetsamuru Kimura and Daniel Ellensohn. Incredibly, both got in each other's way, allowing Melville to scramble the sphere to safety.

It was a let-off repeated three minutes later. This time, a slick one-two down the left between Waugh and Griffiths saw the former angle a low cross towards McCormack. Melville's captain, Gavin Douglas, intervened to thwart the threat on this occasion.

After the frantic opening stanza, the game began to settle, with Uni-Mount increasingly beginning to dictate the pace of the encounter. On the half-hour, Trubshoe saved at the second attempt from McCormack, before smothering a long-range effort from the lively Waugh six minutes later, as a nasty squall and a chill wind swept in from the south and down the ground.

Melville's first shot in half-an-hour emanated from the boot of Holloway seconds later, but Williams was right behind the twenty-yard strike.

His clearance sparked another Uni-Mount raid which culminated in Griffiths pirouetting this way and that before letting fly with a shot which Trubshoe covered well, in much the same manner he dealt with Waugh's twenty-yard free-kick three minutes before half-time, after referee Derek Rugg had ruled in favour of the Uni-Mount striker when he fell during a raid.

Seconds later, a key tactical change came about when Uni-Mount introduced the burly figure of Paul Bunbury to the frame, in place of injured fullback Theary Thou. The change meant Uni-Mount suddenly boasted a key presence in central midfield, and it was this alteration, more than anything else, which saw the tide turn the way of the frequent cup winners.

The second half saw frequent streams of white-clad bodies charging relentlessly towards the northernmost goal at North Harbour Stadium, and it was during this phase that Trubshoe proved his worth to the side.

The goalkeeper saved a rasping twenty-five yarder from McCormack in the 48th minute, turning the shot round the post for a Bunbury corner, which was cleared to Kimura. The Japanese midfielder conjured up a delightful through ball which deceived Trubshoe, but also deceived the wrong-footed figure of Stefan Hollard, who had been similarly bemused moments earlier, as Uni-Mount set about securing an equaliser with a vengeance

Five minutes later, Gavin Douglas - a tower in Melville's defence - blocked a Griffiths cross. The ball fell to Jeremy Field, who was promptly robbed in broad daylight by Waugh - his was a strong display. The striker cracked in a shot on the turn which had Trubshoe scrambling to save superbly low to his left by the post.

Seconds later, Waugh guided a free header wide of the mark, as Griffiths picked him out with a free-kick. But such was the volume of chances being created by Uni-Mount that the no-longer-noisy Melville fans were now dreading the inevitable.

It came in the 58th minute, and was a classic opportunist strike from a player whose performance fully merited a goal. Williams' raking clearance was flicked on by McCormack towards Waugh, who bustled between both Cole Tinkler and Josh Billman to lob the ball over the stranded Trubshoe - 1-1, and a very well-taken equaliser at Four minutes later, Melville somehow survived as a teasing cross-shot from Hollard was pawed out by the back-pedalling Trubshoe. It encouraged the Hamiltonians to pick up their play, and in the 68th minute, only a despairing lunge from Tim Broadhurst prevented Holloway from volleying home in fine style, after Watene had manoeuvred to the right-hand byline.

Back came Uni-Mount, Griffiths and McCormack, who held the ball up well, combining to present Waugh with a chance. Billman intervened to concede a corner on this occasion, and Griffiths' delivery into the danger zone wasn't cleared. McCormack, with his back to goal, pounched on the ball, and cracked a superb swivelling volley goalwards on the turn. Sadly for the striker, Trubshoe was right behind it, but McCormack's time was nigh.

When that time came, it owed much to good fortune, for there is no doubt that the striker was in an offside position when Gavin Douglas' clearance cannoned off Waugh to the feet of his closely-supporting team-mate.

Referee Rugg and his eagle-eyed assistance, Paul Dalziel, both agreed that play should continue, however, there being no intent in Waugh's actions - the ball struck him, not the other way round. This left McCormack free to run at goal, and from fifteen yards out, he crashed the ball past Trubshoe into the far corner of the net to put Uni-Mount 2-1 in front, albeit controversially.

It was the death knell for Melville, whose plucky performance, both en route to and in the final itself had won them many friends. But try as they might, tiring legs couldn't stem the tide and create any further openings of their own, which gave Uni-Mount the chance, in the dying minutes, to put the issue beyond doubt.

Both McCormack and Waugh fired wide of the mark in the last four minutes before the former struck the cup-clinching strike in the ninetieth minute, his shot arrowing into the corner of the net from the edge of the area after Kimura and Waugh had combined on the left.

Melville left with their heads held high, memories of their greatest day and the Bob Smith Memorial Trophy, awarded to the runners-up in the Bluebird Chatham Cup Final.

Sterling Uni-Mount defender Kara Waetford picked up the Jack Batty Memorial Trophy for his man-of-the-match display - despite being involved in an inclement incident with Matt Parkin in the second spell. But he and his team-mates had an even bigger prize to celebrate - the premier trophy in New Zealand club soccer, for the seventh time in thirty-one years.

2003 MATCH REPORT - FINAL

Seven weeks is a long time to wait when plotting to avenge a defeat, but Lynn-Avon United gained sweet revenge for the only blot on their copybook in 2003 when taking arch-rivals Ellerslie to the cleaners in the Uncle Toby's Women's Knockout Cup Final at North Harbour Stadium on August 17.

The 4-1 scoreline made amends in no uncertain terms for the Northern Premier Women's League match between the teams at the end of June, when Ellerslie mauled Lynn-Avon 3-1, a day on which only four United players could hold their heads up and say they did justice to the shirt.

This time round, just three Ellerslie players - defender Kristy Hill, goalkeeper Stephanie Puckrin and captain Maia Jackman - can make the same boast, as Lynn-Avon emphasised their superiority in emphatic fashion. But for the aforementioned trio, that 4-1 outcome may have been far greater. As it was, it earned Lynn-Avon a record fourth win in the ten-year-old competition.

Indeed, only a fingertip save at full stretch by Puckrin prevented Sara Clapham from opening the scoring in the sixth minute, after she had been released down the right by Hayley Moorwood. Two minutes later, Zoe Albon was fortunate to escape any more punishment than the free-kick awarded by referee Hengo Sioneloto, after clipping the heels of Amber Hearn when the last defender left facing a Lynn-Avon raid.

The cup holders were quickly warming to their task, and in the sixteenth minute, Michele Keinzley rampaged down the right. Hill blocked her cross, but the ball fell kindly for Hearn, who jinked past a challenge in the penalty area before letting fly. Despite falling the wrong way, the advancing Puckrin stuck out her left hand and pawed the ball to safety - a superb save.

Ellerslie's goalkeeper then took the full brunt of the charging Terry McCahill in the twentieth minute, as Lynn-Avon's captain surged into the penalty area after Ellerslie failed to clear another Keinzley cross. McCahill received a talking-to from referee Sioneloto, as Puckrin regathered her senses.

The goalkeeper was beaten three minutes later, after Hill had cleared a McCahill free-kick to Kirsty Yallop. The youngster's twenty-five yard drive fizzed narrowly wide, with Puckrin at full stretch

Two goals in three minutes around the half-hour mark finally emphasised Lynn-Avon's early dominance where it matters most - on the scoreboard. Keinzley sprung the offside trap in the 28th minute, and whipped in a low cross which Clapham gleefully steered home.

Two minutes later, Clapham and Moorwood combined to send Keinzley scooting clear down the right once more. With Rebecca Parkinson racing into the box in anticipation of a rebound, Puckrin's handling of the attacking midfielder's cross had to be sure - it was.

But the goalkeeper was beaten by Clapham again seconds later, the striker squeezing her shot under her opponent's diving frame after outpacing Albon on a run into the penalty area, which was prompted by Jennifer Carlisle's early ball forward.

Ellerslie, to this point, hadn't fronted as an attacking force, but a Vicki Rainbow through ball in the 32nd minute finally unleashed the pace of Zoe Thompson. Yvonne Vale was first to the ball, however, only to clear it under pressure to Vicky Butterworth. The young midfielder's first-time thirty-yard effort flew just past the far post with the goal gaping.

Six minutes before half-time, Hill thwarted Parkinson at the death as Lynn-Avon found themselves queuing up to add to their two-goal advantage, something which the ever-lively Moorwood almost did sixty seconds later.

at North Harbour Stadium, Albany. 17 August 2003

Lynn Avon United: Yvonne Vale; Melissa Ray, Terry McCahill, Jenny Carlisle; Michele Keinzley, Hayley Moorwood, Amber Hearn, Jill Gilmore, Kirsty Yallop; Sara Clapham, Rebercza Parkinson, Casch ?

Ellerslie: Stephanie Puckrin; Dana Humby, Kristy Hill, Zoe Albon; Maia Jackman, Saskia Bullen, Vicki Rainbow, Vicky Butterworth (Jen Puckrin '89), Kim Rowney (Leah Tagaloa '60); Margot Bowker, Zoe Thompson (Adrienne Heslop '89). Coach:?

Referee: Hengo Sioneloto Assistant Referees: Rodney Nizic & Stephanie Brown

Picked out by Jill Gilmore's pass, the midfielder's unchallenged run from deep took her into Ellerslie's penalty area, where not even the advancing figure of Puckrin could prevent a shot. Sadly for Moorwood, the ball flashed past the far post.

After Puckrin had saved a twenty-yarder from Hearn, Ellerslie came desperately close to scoring in the last minute of the half, when Butterworth rattled the crossbar from similar distance following her team's first corner of the match - an indication of how infrequently they had threatened Vale's goal to this point.

Five minutes into the second half, the game was up for last season's runners-up. Melissa Ray released Keinzley down the right - the former Ellerslie player had a whale of a game - with a pass which allowed the SWANZ international to lure Puckrin out of goal before steering a precise cross into the goalmouth.

Clapham slid in to turn home her hat-trick strike, becoming the fourth player (after both Beth Clark (Three Kings United) and Maureen Jacobson (Petone) in 1997, and Lynn-Avon team-mate Amanda Crawford three years ago) to score three goals in the final in the process, the feat earning her the MVP award for her efforts.

With the game effectively over as a contest - there was no way on earth Lynn-Avon were going to concede four goals in forty minutes, given they'd conceded just five this season, three of which came in one match - the cup holders kept probing for further goals, while Ellerslie's cause turned to one of saving fare.

They came close on a couple of occasions, Saskia Bullen's rasping twenty-five yarder finding Vale right behind it on the hour mark, while the full-of-running Jackman, who was increasingly left to shoulder her team's attacking forays in the face of her colleagues' increasing despondency, found Lynn-Avon's goalkeeper in fine form in the 66th minute, the custodian racing off her line to save with her less.

Eleven minutes from time came the coup de grace, and there could be no more fitting administrator of it. Moorwood raced clear down the left and curled in a cross which found Keinzley perfectly

The despair from collecting three runners-up medals in the last four years was unleashed in a ferocious volley, which crashed against the underside of the crossbar, bounced down then up into the roof of the net before Puckrin had a chance to save it - 4-0, and how Keinzley and her teammates enjoyed the moment!

They could have gone nap before the final whistle. Puckrin raced off her line to save at the feet of Parkinson as she latched onto a Hearn pass four minutes from time, while Moorwood's inch-perfect pass sent Clapham clear on the right in the last minute.

The striker lured the luckless Puckrin out of goal before sweeping a low cross into the goalmouth. Parkinson slid in to meet it, but poked her effort wide, and pounded the ground repeatedly in frustration.

By this time, though, Ellerslie had reduced the deficit with, as consolation goals go, one of the very best. With a minute to go, Jackman's continuing pursuit of lost causes earned its reward when she led a left-flank raid on Lynn-Avon's goal.

Checking her run, she laid the ball back to Margot Bowker, who curled home a stunning strike from twenty-five yards into the top left-hand corner of Vale's net to complete the 4-1 scoreline, one which Lynn-Avon took great delight in, and with every justification.

Their fourth win is a new competition record, and sees Vale, McCahill and non-playing substitute Dana Heiford joining Jackman as the only players to boast four winners' medals in the Uncle Toby's Women's Knockout Cup - of that quartet, Heiford is the only one who has yet to taste defeat in a final.
